

Working Student

Value for Good is looking for a motivated student to take on critical administrative and office related responsibilities and to provide essential research and writing support for client projects.

What You Bring

- Enrolled university student living in Berlin with the availability up to 20 working hours per week
- Availability and commitment to work at least for 1 year as a working student
- Excellent German and English writing skills
- Great attention to detail and strong organisational skills
- Eager to work with numbers
- Motivation and interest to work on client projects, to do research, and to support administrative processes

What We Offer

- Challenging and exciting projects at the nexus of business and social impact
- Smart and collegial team with international backgrounds
- Insights into client projects with large UN agencies, multinational companies and global foundations
- Opportunity to take on responsibility in the development of a growing consulting firm
- €12 per hour and flexible work arrangements

About Us

Value for Good is a specialised consulting firm founded by a Harvard and Boston Consulting Group alumna that leverages the methods and tools of top management consulting for social good. We work across sectors, enabling companies, public & international organisations and foundations to create, increase and measure social impact.

SUSTAINABILITY CONSULTING

We consult businesses on making sustainability activities strategically pay into core business priorities and contribute to competitive advantage.

PARTNERSHIP ADVISORY SERVICES

We provide strategic advice to partnerships among private, public and social sector organisations to help them effectively maximise impact.

SOCIAL IMPACT CONSULTING

We provide management consulting services to international organisations, the public sector and foundations to help (im)prove value for money.

Application Requirements

- ✓ Motivation letter
- ✓ One-page CV
- ✓ Your availability

Immediate start date desired | Please send your application to talent@valueforgood.com